COMPROMISE REACHED ON SCHOOL AID

HOOVER URGES RECOVERY ACT BE ABANDONED

EXTENSION FOR TWO YEARS IS URGED IN HOUSE

BY W. A. WELLS
(Copyright 1935, By The Associated Press)

Palo Alto, Calif., May 15. (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover said today that complete abolition of the NRA is "the one right answer" which the house of representatives should make to the senate's action extending its life.

"We do not construct new buildings on false foundations," he said in an interview, "and we can not build a nation's economy on a fundamental error."

The NRA has been crushing the life out of small business and "they are crushing the life out of the very heart of the local community body," he declared.

In response to a question as to what, in his opinion, congress should do with regard to the NRA, the former president said:

"In reply to your question, the one right answer by the house of representatives to the senate's action extending the life of the NRA is to abolish it entirely.

Whole Idea Wrong

"Present NRA proposals are as bad, in many ways, as the original with its continuation until the next congress and with the federal agents putting pressure on state legislatures to get them to enact state laws in support of NRA, it is evident there has been no real retreat.

"This whole idea of ruling business through code authorities with delegated powers of law is un-American in principle and a proved failure in practice. The codes are retarding recovery. They are a cloak for conspiracy against the public interest. They are and will continue to be a weapon of bureaucracy, a device for intimidation of decent citizens.

"To the customary answer of destructive criticism' or the other question 'What substitute is offered?' I suggest that the only substitute for an action that rests on definite and proved economic error is to abandon it. We do not construct new buildings on false foundations, and we cannot buid a nation's economy on a fundamental error.

"The beneficient objectives of a greater social justice and the prevention of sweating, child labor and abuse in business practices should be and can be better attained by specific statutory law."

HOUSE BACKS F.D.R.

Washington, May 15. (AP)—House Democratic spokesmen today hurled a polite but positive defy at the senate, warning that the NRA either would be extended two years or allowed to die June 16.

Representative Taylor of Colorado, acting Democratic floor leader was asked what he thought about the senate's resolution adopted yesterday, extending the NRA only 10 months. He said:

"In my opinion, the house overwhelmingly will insist upon a two year extension. We're not delivering an ultimatum to the senate, or anything of the sort, but I believe the house would take nothing before it would take the senate's 10 months bill."

At the same time, a new group known as the "industry and business committee for NRA extension" opened headquarters in the capital and Ward Cheney, chairman, called a meeting next Wednesday of industrialists who support the two year extension.

Fitzgerald to Insist On Balanced Budget, Legislature is Told

Lansing, May 15 (AP)—Governor Fitzgerald warned the legislature today that he expects appropriations for the next two year period to be kept within estimated state revenues.

The governor protested against the possibility the 1935 legislature might adopt a fiscal program which would result in juggling of specific funds. He asserted a present deficit of $8,500,000 cannot be reduced unless revenues exceed expenditures.

In a message to the house and senate, he told legislators that present appropriation bills amounted to $5,000,000 more than anticipated revenues for the first year of the next biennium, and $3,000,000 more than estimated revenues for the second year.

Demands Balance

"All of you know I will not countenance any new form of taxation nor will I depart from my determination to balance the budget. Several courses are open to me which would make it possible to keep the costs of government within revenues without the necessity of imposing new taxes, even though legislative appropriations remain out of balance," the message read.

The governor said bills now pending in the legislature would appropriate $79,975,534 for the first year of the biennium and $79,365,420 for the second year. He estimated the total revenues for the first fiscal year of that period at $74,660,000 and for the second year at $76,615,000.

"It is the duty of the legislative branch of the government, rather than the administrative, to determine the amount to be spent, and I cannot believe that the legislature knowingly would agree upon an amount that would burden the people with additional debt," read the message, which was formally presented to the legislature this afternoon.

"This is a matter of simple arithmetic. Unless there is an increase in revenues or a reduction in appropriations the budget will be out of balance the first year more than $5,000,000 and approximately $3,000,000 the second year, and the state will be forced to continue the dangerous practice of bolstering up the general fund with money set aside for other specific purposes. This is poor business."

MASS MEETING ECHOES HEARD

Hastings Asks if Gov't Used Funds to Bring Group to Capital

BY JERRY GREENE
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, May 15 (AP)—A Republican demand for administration reports on whether government funds helped sponsor the farmer mass-meeting boosting the AAA today climaxed a sharp congressional flare-up over President Roosevelt's denunciation of "lies" about his agricultural adjustment program.

After expressing his resentment at Mr. Roosevelt's attack on the "high and mighty" who were "lying" about the AAA, Senator Hastings (R. Dela.) introduced a resolution calling on Secretary Wallace for all correspondence relative to the gathering of 4,000 farmers and for a report on whether the government furnished transportation costs.

Sen. Lewis Replies

Hastings said he assumed expenses of the farmers were being paid "directly or indirectly by the government." His assertion drew an immediate reply from Lewis of Illinois, the Democratic whip, who demanded proof of "intimations" the president was in a conspiracy to bring the farmers here.

"I have no knowledge," Hastings retorted, except the general attitude of the administration upon that and like subjects."

"That confesses the resolution's weakness," Lewis said, demanding its withdrawal as "an affront" to the president and Wallace.

As this debate raged in the senate and Representatives Fish (R. NY) and Blanton (D. Tex.) exchanged sallies in the house, the farmers who gathered on the White House lawn yesterday to hear Mr. Roosevelt endorse continuance of the AAA were, for the most part, headed homeward.

During the morning, selected farmers from three-score states adopted a resolution condemning critics of the AAA and calling on congress for continuation of the farm program. It declared that "powerful organized groups are attempting to destroy the agricultural adjustment administration," and that the AAA has "lifted the producers from a state of bankruptcy into one of hope."

Removal Of Limit On Liquor Profits Sought In House

Lansing, May 15. (AP)—An attempt to force from the liquor traffic committee a bill to remove the $1,200 a year profit limit on designated merchants selling liquor was launched in the house today.

Rep. Merwin Tomlin, Democrat of Port Huron, circulated a petition among the members asking that the committee report the measure. Under the existing law merchants may not make more than $1,200 a year. Should the limit be removed it might be the entering wedge for virtual abolition of the state liquor store system.

Repeal Forces In Georgia Hold Lead

Atlanta, May 15 (AP)—Georgia repeal forces slowly added to their lead over the prohibitionists as additional returns drifted in tonight from today's referendum.

When 136,437 votes had been tabulated the repealists had a majority of 8,117.

The vote stood:

For repeal 72,277.

Against repeal 64,160.

These returns were from all but four of the 159 counties in Georgia

RAIN BRIGHTENS FARM OUTLOOK

Conditions in Corn Belt Much Improved, Observers Report

Chicago, May 15 (AP)—Corn belt farmers—their memories of the great 1934 drought just about washed away by copious rains—looked upon greener pastures today.

Nature's anachronism—April showers in May—nurtured the best small grain prospects in years in many sections between the Great Lakes and western Nebraska.

The downpours mired roads, sent streams out of their banks in some areas and delayed corn planting from one to three weeks but Iowa, Illinois, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin and North and South Dakota crop observers joined in statements that conditions were much improved over last year, when the blighting aridity set in.

Western railroad officials, anticipating an expansion of freight revenues if the favorable weather continued, shared the soil tillers optimism.

Minister Held On Charges Preferred By Girl's Parents

Charlotte, Mich., May 15 (AP)—The Rev. Harry L. Watkins, 54, pastor of a church at Dimondale, was held in the county jail tonight in default of bond for trial on charges preferred by the parents of a 16-year-old girl.

Mr. Watkins waived examination when he was arraigned in justice court this afternoon and was bound over to the present term of circuit court under $5,000 bond. Prosecutor Homer L. Bauer said he had obtained a statement from Watkins admitting the charges.

Watkins is married and the father of a son. He came to Dimondale from Detroit in 1932.

Leading Peruvian Publisher Killed

Lima, Peru, May 15 (AP)—Antonio Miro Quesada, leading Peruvian publisher and statesman, was assassinated by a student today and his wife died at his side in a vain attempt to shield him.

The double slaying occurred as Miro Quesada, 60, and his wife walked from the Bolivar hotel to the Club Nacional for luncheon.

As they passed the Colon theatre Carlos Stiers, 19, described by police as a political fanatic, fired four revolver shots into Miro Quesada's back. The publisher fell to the sidewalk.

Senora Miro Quesada hurried to his side and stood over him to cut off further shots. Two bullets entered her body and she slumped down beside her husband. Both died almost instantly.

Ontonagon School Strike Continues

Ontonagon, Mich., May 15 (AP)—One hundred and eighty students in the junior and senior high schools here tonight faced loss of credits for the second semester because they failed to return to classes his morning, as ordered in an ultimatum issued yesterday by C. R. Kitson, superintendent of schools.

About 200 of the 400 pupils in the school went on strike when it became known Monday that the school board had not offered another contract to Ernest C. Ruecker, manual arts instructor for 16 years. It was reported the board desired an instructor who also was qualified to coach athletics.

The ultimatum was posted on the bulletin board in the postoffice.

POLAND HONORS DEAD DICTATOR

Body of Pilsudski Borne Through Darkened Streets

Warsaw, May 15 (AP)—The body of Joseph Pilsudski, dictator of Poland, was slowly borne through Warsaw's darkened streets tonight on the shoulders of twenty army officers from Belvedere Castle to St. John's cathedral, where it will lie in state.

The procession passed through a solid lane of soldiers on both sides of the street while thousands of persons with bowed heads jammed the sidewalks. All electric signs along the route were extinguished and street lights were covered with flags.

Troops led and ended the procession, with members of the family, government leaders and foreign diplomats following immediately behind the casket.

The doors of the cathedral were thrown open to the public immediately after the procession's arrival and will remain open until after a military funeral Friday. The body will then be taken to Krakow, where a national funeral will be held Saturday.

From early morning silent files of people passed through Belvedere palace to pay homage to the old warrior, who died Sunday night.

The bier was bare of funeral trappings. There were no wreaths. The only floral decoration consisted of two small bouquets of white and red tulips, the colors of Poland, which were placed at the foot of the bier by Pilsudski's two daughters, Wanda and Jadwiga.

Madame Pilsudski, prostrated by grief, spent all day kneeling at the bier.

Money Appropriated For State Schools

Lansing, May 15 (AP)—A bill carrying appropriations for three state schools was passed by the senate and sent to the house for concurrence in amendments today.

It appropriates $202,840 for the state public school at Coldwater; $93,995 for the Michigan school for the blind at Lansing, and $155,511 for the Michigan school for the deaf at Flint.

Judges Swamped In Baby Chick Contest

East Lansing, Mich., May 15 (AP)—Late arriving exhibits swamped judges of the eighth annual Michigan State college baby chick show and tonight and they said it would be noon tomorrow before they can announce to whom will go a stack of 50 silver trophies, ribbons and prizes. More than 6,000 chicks were entered.

BONUS FORCES SEEK SUPPORT FOR MEASURE

BLOC OF 35 READY TO SUSTAIN VETO BY PRESIDENT

Washington, May 15 (AP)—Senate administration leaders maintained today they were holding plenty of voting strength to sustain President Roosevelt's prospective veto of the Patman bonus bill, despite recurrent reports that Vice President Garner was advising senators to over-ride the chief executive.

The Texan, who favored the bonus before he became President Roosevelt's running mate, refused to comment on the reports.

Garner pointed out to inquiring newspapermen that he never commented on issues before the senate even when his name became involved, and refused to say anything about published reports he was suggesting to senators it would be "good politics" to get the bonus out of the way by passing it over the president's veto.

Friends of the Patman bill again held it in the senate today, hopeful there would be a change of sentiment by which they could force the inflationary measure over the president's objections.

Supporters Impatient

Senator Thomas (D-Okla.), said he would continue to hold up the measure until the fullest strength for it could be mustered.

Thomas pointed out that Senator Reynolds (D-N. C.), was returning from the Virgin Islands and the newly appointed Senator Chavez, of New Mexico, was not yet sworn in. Both senators are counted upon to vote to over-ride the veto.

Administration leaders said so far as they knew there had been no change in their solid bloc of 35 votes to sustain the president.

There were indications that some of the Patman bill supporters were becoming restive at the long delay, feeling that the country might be losing interest and that the chances of favorable action would be lessened accordingly.

Some of this group indicated hope that Thomas might be willing to let the bill go to the White House late this week, timing it to reach the president's desk too late for him to send back a veto message before congress reconvenes on Monday.

Backers of the Vinson compromise bill—rejected by both house and senate—were described as mulling over the feasibility of offering that bill as an amendment to some appropriation measure in event the Patman bill goes down under a sustained veto.

PUBLIC WORKS WAGES TO VARY

Basic Formula Provides For Reduction Under Prevailing Scale

BY THOMAS J. HAMILTON, JR.
(Copyright 1935, By The Associated Press)

Washington, May 15 (AP)—A basic framework for labor's wages under the $4,000,000,000 work program, calling for a 30 per cent slash in prevailing hourly rates on construction jobs, tonight was disclosed to have been drawn tentatively for White house approval.

Emphasizing that President Roosevelt has yet to approve the set-up, a high official who would not permit use of his name, said monthly payments were expected to vary from $16 for unskilled labor in the south to $96 for a skilled workman in New York City.

The average, he said, would exceed the $50 a month "security" wage on which the work program was planned. It compares with a monthly average of $29.50 on jobs now conducted under the relief administration on which prevailing wages are paid but only enough employment given to meet a worker family's relief needs.

Three Classifications

Still undetermined in the tentative schedule were the monthly allotment of work hours to labor and the total cost of labor's share of the outlays. Detailed wage regulations were expected to be submitted to the White House shortly by Harry L. Hopkins, works progress director.

The authoritative official said present plans called for three classifications of workers, with graduations in pay. Separate wage schedules in would be provided for the six major regions, still undisclosed, into which the country has been divided. Present public works regulations provide minimum rates for two classes of labor—skilled and unskilled in the northern, central and southern zones—but require payment of prevailing union wages if the latter are higher.

The new works schedule would set up an intermediate class of semi-skilled workers, with pay approximately midway between the skilled and unskilled.

If the president approves the 30 per cent reduction, officials said payments will range from 29 cents to 35 cents an hour for common labor, from 50 to 60 cents for semi-skilled and from 70 to 85 cents for skilled. These were described as falling 30 per cent below PWA averages based on prevailing rates.

At present, the PWA minimum ranges from 40 cents for unskilled and $1.00 for skilled in the southern zone to 45 cents and a $1.10 in the central and 50 cents and $1.20 in the northern zones.

Most of the 750,000 white-collar people now on relief were said to fall in the skilled and semi-skilled classes. These were to receive research or administrative work.

Hail Stones Used For Supply Of Ice

Excelsior Springs, Mo., May 15. (AP)—Nature was the ice man for the Red Brush neighborhood.

Today, six days after a severe hail storm, residents there were making ice cream with hail stones that drifted against creek banks. And farmers predicted the ice supply would last three weeks more.

Free Employment Service Is Ended

Lansing, May 15 (AP)—The state's free employment service, designed to place unemployed men on private and public works jobs, was a thing of the past tonight.

Books of the service in the ten Michigan cities where it was operated were turned over today to the national re-employment service, which will add at least some of these cities to its list, now operating in counties which did not have the state free employment service.

ADJOURNMENT PLAN REJECTED

House Democrats Insist 8 Bills to Help PWA Be Considered

BY WILLIAM R. MULLER
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Lansing, May 15 (AP)—A concerted move by Republicans to adjourn the general business session of the 1935 legislature May 23 met defeat today in the house.

The senate motion was defeated 48 to 45 in the house as Democrats voted solidly against immediate adoption of the adjournment date. Rep. I. Thomas Thatcher, Democrat, Ravenna, told the house that Democratic representatives would not vote for adjournment until eight bills submitted at the request of the national public works administration have been considered.

The bills would give municipalities wide powers in constructing public works under the president's work relief program and would allow governmental units to issue revenue bonds without referendum. Attorney General Harry S. Toy has declared them unconstitutional.

With the necessity of rapid consideration of the legislative program heightened by impending adjournment, the senate attempted to conciliate the hostile house by granting a conference on the question of exempting foodstuffs from the sales tax.

Senate administration leaders are determined not to accept the report of the conference committee, contending that adoption of the measure would shear $6,000,000 from present state revenues.

Major appropriation bills went into conference.

Ickes Loses Bill, Another One Voted

Washington, May 15 (AP)—Openly chuckling at Secretary Ickes' expressed "chagrin" over having lost a bill recently passed by congress, the senate and house today goodnaturedly passed him a new one.

And hardly had the congressional laughter died when President Roosevelt putting the climax on the almost unprecedented speed with which the action was carried out, signed the measure into law. The whole business required only a couple of hours.

Indictments Denied In Chain Letter Fad

Denver, May 15. (AP)—The carefully prepared test case through which the federal government hoped to dam the nation-wide flood of cash chain letters was blasted today by a grand jury's refusal to indict three Denver businessmen.

The government contended that 1,000 "send-a-buck" letters the three men had mailed violated the fraud and lottery statutes

DIRECT GRANT FOR 1936 WILL BE 22 MILLION

APPROPRIATION FOR 1937 AND 1938 INCREASED

BY GILBERT T. SHILSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Lansing, May 15 (AP)—The school aid problem was settled by the legislature today.

Approximately $16,000,000 more than was ever appropriated before was granted to keep the schools operating next year. In succeeding years the amount will increase.

The end of the long battle over the educational fund came when the house adopted, without protest, a conference report awarding $36,040,000 next year, including the primary school fund, $37,400,000 in 1937 and $38,000,000 a year thereafter. Acceptance by the senate followed.

Fitzgerald Satisfied

It was estimated the primary school fund—made up of assessments against utility companies, inheritance taxes and other revenues will be $14,000,000 or more. Direct state aid therefore will amount to about $22,000,000 next year.

The conference report was satisfactory to Governor Fitzgerald, who persistently opposed the $25,000,000 plea but offered $22,000,000.

The compromise bill accepted so mildly by the house in effect represented the senate view of the school situation. The house passed a bill guaranteeing the schools a flat $25,000,000 in addition to the primary school fund, or nearly $40,000,000 a year. The senate amended the measure by placing in it the figures approved by the conference committee for the next two years.

Settlement of the school aid controversy marked the break of a deadlock and the beginning of a rush toward adjournment. Further demolition of Governor Fitzgerald's so-called economy and reform program accompanied the adoption of the school bill. The house sent an administration bill providing for consolidation of tax collection agencies back to the state affairs committee to die.

Polar Bear Knows When To Hide Nose

Oklahoma City, May 15 (AP)—A polar bear is wise enough to know how black his nose is.

Dr. Richard L. Sutton, jr., Kansas City wild game hunter, told the Oklahoma State Medical association about it today.

"When a bear is stalking a seal it moves cautiously to where the seal is sunning," he said. "When the destined victim opens an eye, as it does every few seconds, the bear covers its nose, the only black part about it, with a paw and stands still. Its white fur is almost as dazzling white as the snow."

Blimp Damaged In Mooring Accident

Lakehurst, N. J., May 15 (AP)—The training blimp "K-1" was slightly damaged today when a cable roller jammed as the ship was being moored to an experimental mast on the naval air station field.

Ole Victor Roos, seaman, first class, a member of the ground crew, wa knocked down as the wind blew the ship around, but was not seriously hurt. Fabric in the blimp's side was torn.

Commander Charles Rosendahl said that six or seven men were in the ship's crew, but that none was injured.

(By The Associated Press)

Winthrop W. Aldrich, New York banker, asserted that exercise of all powers outlined in the omnibus banking bill might sweep away the "practical value" of social security legislation.

House leaders predicted insistence by that branch for two years extension of NRA despite the senate's 10-month clause.

Senator Hastings (R-Del.) asked a report from the administration on whether government funds were used to sponsor the AAA "booster" meeting here.

A tentative wage scale under the work-relief fund, calling for monthly pay between $16 and $96 was disclosed as having been drawn for presidential approval.

Kingsford-Smith Tells Of Harrowing Flight

Sydney, Australia, May 15. (AP)—Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, Australia's trail-blazing aviator, said "I thought we were gone" today after he and two companions won a fight for life over the storm-lashed Tasman Sea.

Nervously puffing on a cigarette, the haggard and drawn Kingsford-Smith gave all the credit for their escape from death to his navigator, Captain P. C. Taylor.

It was Taylor who after one of the three motors dropped into the sea coolly risked death by climbing six times out on the plane's wings, despite howling winds, to transfer oil in the two sputtering motors. Unable to get altitude, the ship then was almost in the water.

They were 850 miles out to sea bearing a cargo of special jubilee mail to Wellington, N. Z., when a propeller and the motor tore lose and plunged into the sea, throwing an extra burden on the other two motors.

"No other man in the world could have done it," said Sir Charles of Taylor's feat. "When the port motor went out Taylor said: 'You stall her while I crawl out to see if I can get oil from the bad motor.' And he did it, not once, but six times."

OMNIBUS BANK BILL ASSAILED

Winthrop Aldrich Claims Too Much Power Is Given to Board

Washington, May 15. (AP)—Likening the omnibus banking bill to measures utilized at the time of the destructive German and French inflations, Winthrop W. Aldrich, chairman of the Chase National Bank, predicted today that if all its powers were used the "practical value of all social security legislation" could be swept away.

In as severe a denunciation of the bill as has yet been made, Aldrich, with several aides grouped about him, told a senate banking sub-committee the bill was "potentially despotic" through its centralization of authority over credit and currency in the federal reserve board. The system, he said would be "set up without check or balance in law and with few restraints in fact."

Aldrich was interrupted only a few times, principally by Chairman Glass (D-Va.) who agreed with most he said.

"This bill is a measure not of security but of insecurity," Aldrich asserted, "for the exercise of powers freely granted under it can wipe the practical value of all social security legislation off the slate, and make benefits granted to the aged or the unemployed mathematical expressions only."

He said the bill, by granting the reserve board six powers, including one to "dilute the currency" and another to "force the reserve banks to engage in whatever open market operations it may decree," did not liberalize the reserve system but made it over "into an instrument of despotic authority."

BRIEFLY TOLD

Meaning Lost—A typographical error yesterday obliterated the meaning of an item regarding the preservation of property values through the use of paint. The jumbled paragraph should have read as follows:

"The city of Escanaba can properly save $450,000 through property conservation by timely application of paint," said George McEwen, chairman of the Escanaba Better Housing Program committee. "My estimate," said Mr. McEwen, "is based upon data compiled by a prominent authority. He estimates that the possible annual conservation of property by paint totals $3,445,000,000. This is $30 per capita. I multiplied the population of Escanaba by 30 to get my estimate of $450,000."

The other visitors included three Netherland consuls, Jacob Stekett of Grand Rapids; William Bryant of Detroit, and William Viennema of Chicago. Cesar Barranco of Cuba; George H. Heidman of Finland, and L. Bartoleme of Spain, all consuls stationed in Detroit, likewise attended the ceremonies.

New Weapons Voted For Police Officers

Lansing, May 15 (AP)—The legislature gave police officers of the state today new weapons to combat organized crime and control dangerous mental cases.

The senate approved six measures suggested by the state crime commission, and passed by the house. They were sent to the governor for signature.

One bill would permit police to make arrests without warrants on information obtained by radio, telephone or teletype, warrants would not be necessary for the arrest of parole violators nor escaped convicts.

Another would abrogate the old common law presumption that a woman who commits a crime in the presence of her husband does so under coercion.

The same method will be used in putting out the two evening papers if the strike continues tomorrow, it was announced.

Judge O'Brien Will Oppose Ouster Plan

Detroit, May 15 (AP)—Judge Ernest A. O'Brien of federal district court named the law firm of Dykema, Jones & Wheat to represent him in opposing the department of justice pettiion to oust him as trial judge in the ten remaining Detroit bank cases.

The firm will prepare an answer to the government's charge that Judge O'Brien is biased and prejudiced. Judge O'Brien said a dozen or more law firms had volunteered their services, and indicated that the firm named was selected because none of its members had been involved in any of the bank litigation.

Judge O'Brien was served late Tuesday with the order of the federal appelate court at Cincinnati to show cause within ten days why he should not be barred from presiding at the remaining trials.

Lawyers discussed the possibility that the Wayne county and Detroit bar associations, which yesterday offered their assistance to Judge O'Brien, might petition the appelate court for permission to intervene as parties to the case.

Britain Urged To Close Suez Canal To Italian Ships

London, May 15 (AP)—Great Britain will make no move to close the Suez canal and British ports to Italian warships and transports without first consulting the League of Nations and the United States, a high authority said tonight.

Agitation for such a single-handed action by Britain is increasing as a result of Benito Mussolini's inference he will ignore a tri-partite treaty by which he is pledged to consult England and France in regard to Ethiopian disputes.

England, it was said, is determined to continue her efforts to avoid a North African war despite Mussolini's warning to other powers yesterday to keep their hands off the quarrel.

HITLER TO AIM AT MUSSOLINI?

Foreign Policy Will Be Discussed by Fuehrer Before Reichstag

BY MELVIN WHITELEATHER
(Associated Press Foreign Staff)

Berlin, May 15 (AP)—Adolf Hitler, a past master at turning the tables, may hurl defiance to Benito Mussolini in his reichstag speech next Tuesday, using Italian action in North Africa as an example of Europe's warlike activities which necessitate German rearmament.

Diplomats said today they anticipate Der Fuehrer will seize the opportunity in his foreign policy speech to nominate himself as a great peace lover, singling out British, French and Italian arms building as indicative that other powers are travelling opposite roads.

An Accusing Finger

Diplomats admitted that in view of Italian persistance in mobilizing troops in its border dispute with Ethiopia Hitler has an unusual opportunity to point an accusing finger at the other side.

England, in the German view, is letting Mussolini run loose in East Africa because she needs his trumps in playing her cards with Germany.

Nazi press officials were forbidden to comment on Mussolini's speech yesterday on the Ethiopian question in which he warned other powers to keep hands off.

One paper, however, commented:

"England is standing by calmly watching the destruction of the East African balance of power because she needs Italy and her European plans."

Hitler is expected to reserve several strong blasts for the Franco-Russian pact, maintaining that it is purely a military alliance, directed against Germany and that it violates the Locarno treaty.

Threatened Strike Among Iron Miners Now Is Uncertain

Ironwood, Mich., May 15 (AP)—The threatened strike among iron miners of Gogebic county and the Iron River district, reached a stage of uncertainty tonight with Thursday morning's planned walkout temporarily halted by union representatives to await the arrival of a federal conciliator.

Coincident with the temporary postponement of the strike to enforce demands for a 50 per cent boost in wages and other concessions, workers were demanding to know why I. L. Traux, mine union organizer, left here Tuesday without giving any reason for his departure.

Ralph Rowel, district representatives of the union miners announced that the strike scheduled to start at 7 a. m. Thursday, would be postponed until after a federal conciliator had arrived from Washington and opened negotiations with the mine property management.

The United States had 241,500 miles of railway lines in 1933 and ranked first among nations of the world in this respect. Canada ranked second with 57,100 miles.

SPLENDID WORK

THE state conservation department deserves the commendation of every right thinking citizen for their decisive action with regard to the wholesale plundering of the Bay de Noquet pike supply.

The fisherman, who was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail after pleading guilty in justice court, also suffered the loss by confiscation of four gill nets, a row boat and 800 pounds of fish.

The seizure of this large quantity of fish serves to give a good idea of the devastation that has been caused during the past couple weeks. Such activities, if continued, would spell the doom the pike fishing in Bay de Noquet, bringing about a development similar to that which has occurred with regard to the trout situation.

Excuses that such persons must violate the fish and game laws in order to make a living do not go anymore. Various governmental agencies have been created for taking care of such conditions. But poverty cannot be accepted as an excuse for stealing the public's property.

Pike and bass fishing can be developed into a popular sport, which will attract hundreds of tourists to the head of Bay de Noquet each summer. Already, quite a thriving business is realized by residents of Masonville, Garth and Rapid River from this type of tourist business.

Business men and other citizens of those communities would do well to band themselves together to stop the ruthless plundering of one of their most valuable resources. If they are interested in developing their tourist business, they could do nothing better than to take steps to aid the conservation department in its efforts to protect the people's fish and game supply.

PLAN SANATORIUM

THE state administrative board has ordered the immediate construction of a sanatorium at Gaylord to meet the needs of the tuberculosis-afflicted people in the northern part of lower Michigan.

There has been agitation for the erection of a state hospital in that district for many years and the action taken by the administrative board must be highly welcome news to those who have worked toward this objective.

A survey made sometime ago showed that there was a high rate of tuberculosis in that district. It was also disclosed that areas having sanatorium facilities had a better record.

The state administrative board's action, coupled with the announcement that the late Mrs. R. C. Flannigan had bequeathed $15,000 to Pinecrest Sanatorium and a similar amount to the Colorado Foundation for Tuberculosis Research, shows that there is a growing appreciation of the value of such facilities in promoting public health.

BUILDINGS GO UP

ONE of the best bits of news of the spring is the announcement that the building industry is slowly beginning its long-awaited upswing.

A number of forces are contributing to the improvement. Big engineering jobs fostered by government spending are playing a part, and so are minor house-repairing jobs stimulated through the Federal Housing Administration.

On top of that, residential building is beginning to show signs of life—reflecting, apparently, an improvement both in means and confidence of the ordinary citizen.

Whatever the causes may be, the revival is highly important. Until the building trades do revive, we cannot have real business recovery.

If the revival is actually beginning—if what looks like a revival just now is not just a temporary spring spurt—it is the best of all possible omens of our return to full prosperity.

UNITING OUR POLICE

A COUNTRY-WIDE radio system which would link all police forces in a unified campaign against crime has been outlined by J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice, in a letter to the head of the Ohio Highway Patrol.

In view of the way radio has proved its usefulness to scores of city police departments, this plan would seem to have much to recommend it.

It might, indeed, be the means by which we could achieve the necessary degree of national coordination of police work without sacrificing local autonomy.

From the standpoint of efficiency alone, we need a federal police force to replace all our local forces. No one wants that, however, because of the sacrifice of local liberties it would involve.

Some sort of national radio tie-up might give us many of the advantages of federalization without any of its drawbacks. The idea ought to be well worth study.

PRESS COMMENT

SATISFACTION that the sales tax is not likely to be removed from food is expressed in some of the papers. Others discuss a miscellany of subjects that have to do with passing events.

The Kalamazoo Gazette, noting the status of attacks on the sales tax law, goes on to remind:

"Failing to win the concurrence of the senate, the house proposal to exempt foodstuffs from the general sales tax is now expected to be 'lost in the shuffle' at Lansing. It is just as well. Undoubtedly it would be a nice thing if we could all be relieved of the sales tax burden on food. Every little bit helps in these stringent times, and even a slight reduction in the average daily outlay for food would be widely welcomed. But why discriminate in favor of food? Food is a necessity of life, to be sure, but so are clothing and shelter and various other things. Once we try to draw a distinction between necessities and non-necessities or luxuries we get ourselves into a problem from which neither the wisest economist nor the most experienced practical business adviser can extricate us.

The Battle Creek Enquirer-News also refers to the sales tax. It relates:

"The reason given by the Michigan state senate on Friday for its action in refusing to exempt foods from the state sales tax was that it could not agree on this heavy reduction in state revenue when there were so many increasing demands for state appropriations. The reason is valid. It should be apparent through the simplest form of mathematics that the state cannot wipe out its property tax, increase its welfare and relief appropriations, take over the burden of all the school deficits, increase its hospital and asylum facilities—and then materially reduce its sources of revenue adopted as substitutes for property tax."

* * *

The Pontiac Press looks at another phase of the legislative situation other than that dealt with in the foregoing. It comments:

"Governor Fitzgerald registers a vigorous denial to the statement made so frequently during the past few weeks that he was going to 'get' State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner. He points to the fact that he has no right to remove him without cause and by implication at least intimates that there is no basis for the stories that have been floating around the capitol building. It looks very much as if mischief makers whose job at Lansing it has been to embarrass and annoy the governor, have set these yarns afoot possibly with a sinister purpose."

* * *

The Muskegon Chronicle is another paper to deal with the legislative situation. It points out:

"The legislative situation at Lansing is so confused, with a republican senate and a democratic house jockeying back and forth, that the ordinary citizen finds it difficult to keep track of the moves made in tinkering with the sales tax law. Despite repeated warnings as to the danger of invalidating the whole law by tacking on a list of exemptions, every effort to amend the law to relieve

BEGIN HERE TODAY

KTHARINE STRYKHURST, beautiful, 20, is discontented with the useless round of social activities that make up her life. Her father and aristrcratic stepmother, BERTINE, refuse to let Katharine undertake any sort or work.

Katharine rides daily with MICHAEL HEATHEROE, young westerner who runs a riding club. SALLY MOON, local coquette, also enrolls at the club for riding lessons.

ZOE PARKER, Katharine's friend, returns from Europe where she was sent to forget a love affair with GIBBS LARKIN, of whom her parents disapprove. Zoe is still in love with Gibbs.

DR. JOHN KAYE, a relative of Bertine's pays the Strykhursts a visit.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER VI

Zoe, after all, was not angry. Katharine's heart softened when she saw her at the Country Club dance—small and round and wistful in her floating printed silk, which was the prize of the frocks she had brought back from Paris.

It was a gala night at the club. Ribbons of colored paper flew back and forth, and ballons were set free, only to be punctured by the cigaret of some roisterer. Katharine danced with Dr. Kaye, to be cut in upon again and again. She looked lovely tonight in clear ivory silk, the gown molded to the lines of her exquisite young figure. Bertine Strykhurst, glancing at Katharine's animated face, as she laughed and talked with John Kaye, observed to her husband with satisfaction that Katharine had evidently forgotten all about that career nonsense.

Frank Corliss, the typical sophomore, in elegant English dinner clothes, with real pearls for studs made a foil for Zoe Parker. Lisa Parker and Bertine both agreed that they were a charming pair.

"He seems quite mad about her," Lisa sighed. "I wouldn't mind seeing her settle down—after this last year."

"You've had a worrying time of it," agreed Bertine, who knew all about Bibbs and who, although not a mother herself, would tell anyone who cared to listen that the girl of today was certaily a problem.

"The only thing Katharine really seems to care about," Bertine said brightly, "is riding. Really, I wish sometimes that Victor had let her have a horse of her own. I am not quite sure I like the idea of exposing her to the charms of that young westerner over at Shady Ridge. Much too good-looking, in a certain crude way."

"Oh, Katharine's all right," Lisa Parker said comfortably watching Zoe's brown curls bob against young Corliss' black-coated shoulder. "She is so serene. Nothing ever seems to trouble her."

Bertine started to reply, but thought better of it. People misunderstood so, if she said a single word about Katharine! That was what it was to be a stepmother. Nobody gave you the least bit of credit.

Katharine steered John out on the terrace. "Noisy!" she observed, drooping against a pillar.

"And hot!"

"John, you see what I mean about father and Bertine? I haven't had a chance to talk to you all day."

He nodded. "I see. They want to keep you wrapped in cotton wool. Your father doen't know you've grown up."

Her eyes glittered feverishly in the half light.

"How—how can I escape from it.

* * *

He laughed, and something of the wholesome quality of his own good, gentle personality touched her with a sort of healing, releasing her from the mutinous tensions which had bound her all day.

"Well, the Victorians used to marry to get out from under parental supervision. But that didn't work so well. Maybe it does nowadays. Women seem to rule the roost."

"Don't be vulgar." But she was laughing, too.

"However," she pursued with relish. "You don't just marry—like that, I mean. You've got to be—well, at least, think you're in love."

"Plenty of boys have been loping around after you tonight," said Dr. Kaye quietly. In the light from the flare of his match, cupped against the breeze, she could see his lean, almost ascetic face. Thirty, John was; he was already a fine doctor and a man everyone respected. The woman who married him would be a lucky person, Katharine thought, innocently.

"Oh, boys! she rejoined, on a note of contempt.

"Don't like 'em, eh?"

"Not—not much!" she confessed. There was a wicker couch here, with deep square cushions. She sank into it and John Kaye sat down beside her.

"There somebody else?"

"Not—not really." She sighed. John would be a perfect person to

THE GREAT

The passing youngster throws a ball
Against the gray, old castle wall
And never thinks about the king.
His play the more important thing.
A monarch nothing much at all.

And so, I think, perhaps the great
Their greatness overestimate,
Think others are concerned with theirs,
Concerned about their own affairs,
Affairs that really make the state.

These make a country: women, men,
Children, the winter, spring again,
A rose beside the kitchen door,
Some plaything fallen on the floor,
These are the things important then.

And all the great can hope to do
Is see that nothing happens to
That child, that mother, and that sire,
The summer's rose, the winter's fire—
Not subjects faithful, they the true.

LIONS PREPARE FOR CONVENTION

District Meeting Will Be Held in Escanaba June 8 and 9

Preparations are being made at Escanaba for the entertainment of the Lions clubs of the tenth district, comprised of the Upper Peninsula, who will hold their annual convention here June 8 and 9. Responses received from all of the eight clubs of the peninsula indicate this will be the largest convention ever held in the district. The meeting last year was at Newberry, and two new clubs, Escanaba and Menominee, have been added since that time.

Most of the preliminary arrangements have been completed, and the entertainment program committee has laid out a tentative program for the two days. Registration will start June 7 at 4 p. m. at the Sherman hotel, and will continue at 8 a. m. June 8. The first business session is scheduled for 10 a. m. June 8, with the meeting called to order by Harry J. Trainor of Lake Linden, district governor. Roderick Beddow of Birmingham, Alabama, immediate past president of Lions International, will be the main speaker.

Following the opening day luncheon will be an afternoon business session, with an evening banquet at 6:30. Judge Henry Graas of Green Bay will be one of the speakers. The district governor's ball will be held at Terrace Gardens Saturday evening, June 8. Don Mack's orchestra, starring Jack Teela of radio fame, and featuring a floor show, will provide the music. The final business session will be at the Sherman Sunday morning, June 9.

D. D. Prust is general chairman of the convention, and committees are as follows: entertainment—James Frenn, Nick Bink, James Costley; transportation—Frank Sheedlo, Derlin Remington, John Moberg; greeters—Matt Sullivan, Gordon Stegath; publicity—L. A. Danielson, J. H. Shipman, Nat Fryer; banquet—Stanley Burnette, Gus Asp; decorations—Harry Meiers, Jack Stevens, Jack Miller; registrations—Ernest Desilets, W. R. Buttimer; finance—Paul Treadwell, Jess Laviolette; reservations—Gordon Aley, Lester Kenny.

Entertainment for the Lionesses is being arranged by a committee which includes: Mrs. P. E. Treadwell, chairman; Mrs. A. J. Goulais, Mrs. Matt Sullivan, Mrs. A. D. LaBranche, Miss Amy Bolger and Mrs. A. J. Groop.

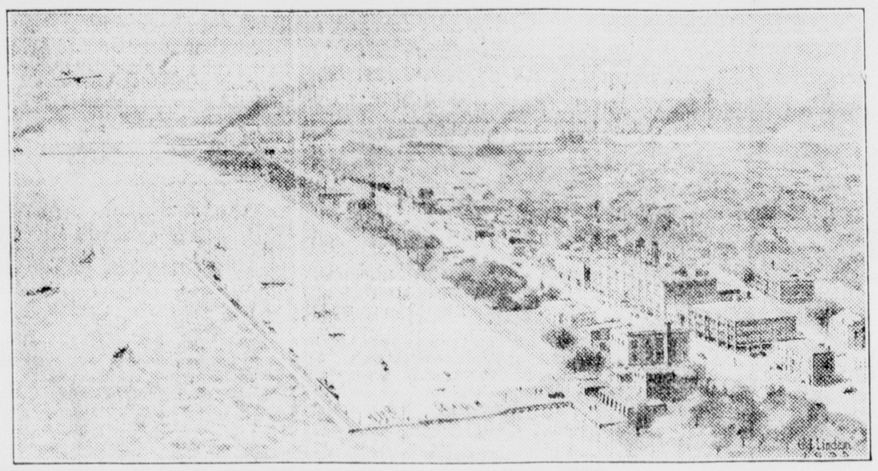
Menominee's New $100,000 Harbor and Beach



With the completion of its $100,000 seawall, the City of Menominee, is now provided with a yacht harbor and bathing beach equal to any in the Great Lakes area. Menominee is on the west shore of Green bay.

The seawall is so constructed that an extension can be added at any future time. It is 500 feet out from shore and is 1,000 feet long paralleling the shore line. It will accommodate the largest of pleasure crafts. Important is its close proximity to Menominee's business section. It is just a block from the heart of the city's store, shops, banks, department store, movie, and restaurants, a convenience that will appeal to visiting yachtsmen.

Menominee's new yacht harbor is the culmination of a necessity that had its inception about five years ago. The project was fostered by a group of that city's yachting enthusiasts who visioned the possibilities of a refuge for pleasure crafts. These men were Alfred A. Henes, T. R. Hasley, Meredith Sawyer, Harold Eastberg, Fred Rasor, Henning Sollen, and Hemming Larson.

Most of the construction represented in the "fill" was completed during the winter of 1933-1934 and the capping was finished in the spring and summer last year. The work was carried out as a CWA project with the help of local financing by the city and Alfred A. Henes.

Michigan Commercial Fishermen Complain Of Invading Interests

Delta county commercial fishermen are complaining that Wisconsin interests are invading Michigan waters and taking fish in such quantities that the future supply is being seriously imperiled.

According to the fishermen, a year's residence in this state is required to be eligible for a commercial fishing license to operate in Michigan waters. It is reported that a score or more large fishing outfits from Wisconsin are now getting big hauls of suckers in Big Bay de Noquet and it is expected their operations will be transferred to the perch business as soon as the season opens tomorrow.

It is explained that the non-residents are getting around the law by giving a bill of sale for their boats, nets and other equipment to some Michigan resident, who is in their employ. For this reason, conservation department officers are balked in their efforts to enforce the law regulating this phase of commercial fishing.

The Delta county fishermen point out that at the present time large hauls of suckers are being made, causing depletion of the supply. Suckers bring a price of about one cent a pound now, but if they were allowed to remain in the waters until the winter, when the price jumps up to seven and eight cents a pound, all the commercial fishermen would benefit materially.

Wisconsin waters of Lake Michigan are reported to be about fished out as a result of extensive commercial fishing operations in the last several years, and it is now feared that the invasion of the outsiders will raise havoc with the Big Bay de Noquet stock.

Stack's Resort Will Open For Business Soon

Henry M. Stack of Escanaba has announced this week that his new Long Point resort at Whitefsih lake will be ready for business in time for the opening of the 1935 tourist season.

The first series of cottages is now being completed and equipped at Long Point, just off the county road west of Curtis and on the north shore of Whitefish or south of Manistique lake, in Mackinac county.

Curtis is located on highway M-135, which intersects US-2 at a point near Gould City, and M-98 at Helmer. Long Point and the Manistique lakes can also be reached by the county road extending from highway M-77 to Curtis.

"We will have accommodations of a superior type for over 30 adults to start with," said Mr. Stack. "The Long Point resort cottages will be completely furnished in every particular. Occupants will be serviced daily through the season with fuel, ice and other conveniences, and boats will be provided with each cottage. Long Point has one of the best bathing beaches to be found anywhere, and the fishing in Whitefish is particularly good."

"Last year there was apparently a larger demand for high class cottages, ideally located at lakesides, and the district could accommodate," continued Mr. Stack. "The Long Point venture constitutes an effort to provide service in this line that will measure up to the very best in the north country. There is ample room for expansion at Long Point and amid some very beautiful surroundings, and if additional accommodations are deemed advisable, they will be provided next year."

Three Conservation Commissioners Are Needed In Peninsula

"There is logical foundation for the growing thought in the Upper Peninsula that three of the seven members of the Michigan Conservation commission should be Upper Peninsula people," says the Reverend Karl J. Hammar, president of the Wolverine Conservation association of Escanaba.

"The fact that the forests and the fish and game reserves of the Upper Peninsula far exceed those remaining downstate is only one reason for such a more," continued Mr. Hammar. "The northern 15 counties comprise and area nearly 400 miles long and almost 250 miles wide in its widest part. This area is larger than that of several eastern states. It is too much to ask for three commissioners, one of the western part of the Peninsula, a second in the central section, and the third in the east?

"The proponents of this suggested action are not criticisers of the department. They feel that in the main it is very efficiently handled. Mistakes are bound to occur, of course, in administering conservation affairs over to vast a domain as Michigan, but where they have been at all serious, they have usually been corrected in time.

"Three heads are better than two. We have two good ones now but three responsible and forward-looking commissioners in this part of the state would not be too many, when the diversity of our conservation problems and the scope of our territory are considered."

Winners Picked In Declamation

Jane Rowely, presenting "National Apostasy," by Clarence E. McCarney, won first place in the Grade 9-A declamatory contest of Escanaba Junior high school, held Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The winner is a member of Room 9-5.

Marguerite Osier of 9-1, who gave "The Ride of Jennie McNeal," by Will Carlton, was second in the grade contest.

The other two contestants, were Hinda Cunningham, 9-2, who presented, "Napoleon," by Robert Ingersoll, and Kathryn Skopp, of 9-4, who gave "Speech of John Adams," by Daniel Webster.

All four contestants were winners in previous home room competition.

The contest Wednesday was the first of the series to be held in the school this week to select grade champions.

Safety Education Good Thing For Entire Year

East Lansing, May 15—Michigan Safety Education Week has met with such success during the first two days that a continuing campaign through the year by the Michigan Safety and Traffic Directors' Association is likely, Lieutenant C. J. Scavarda, of the Michigan State Police, reported today.

With his chief aide, Sergeant Wright G. Needham, Lieutenant Scavarda is directing the statewide campaign for the traffic association.

"While we have not as yet had reports from all cities, those coming in indicate the campaign will be one of the most successful safety efforts ever attempted in Michigan," Lieutenant Scavarda said. "Detroit, Grand Rapids, Flint, Lansing, Saginaw, Kalamazoo and other cities are all pleased with the results to date."

At Grand Rapids, Captain Raymond Sprague, association president, praised Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald for the impetus he gave the campaign at the opening on Sunday.

"His address to the citizens shows that Governor Fitzgerald is close to the safety traffic problem," Sprague said. "His message, pleading for self education on the part of motorists and pedestrians in safety, was excellent. We shall incorporate his ideas in our educational matter in our publication, the Safety Signal, and in information given to the press from time to time."

"Education can teach the driver his responsibility, and education is what we are aiming at in this program," the Governor said.

"Motoring will be made as safe as it is humanly possible to make it, only when the people who use our highways have a full sense of their own responsibility."

Tipsy Driver Takes 30 Days In Lockup

After taking a motor trip around the block on the sidewalk, Earl Maynard of Gladstone hit two trees and a truck near the Coliseum and was arrested on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicants. He was found guilty in justice court and given a fine of $50 and costs or the alternative of 30 days in the county jail. He took the jail sentence, and will also have his driving license revoked.

..TO MAKE DRIVING SAFE..

STOP ROAD DUST!

NO DRIVER is safe on a dusty road. Danger hides in every dust cloud. Bridges, turns and cars are often invisible until you are right on them. For safe driving, stop road dust.

This danger and the dirt and discomfort that go with it need not be tolerated because of the cost of dust control, for DUST CONTROL ACTUALLY COSTS LESS THAN THE WASTE CAUSED BY DUST.

Dusty roads are expensive roads to keep. No amount of time and labor will keep them in condition. Yet as soon as you bind dust to the road with Dowflake Calcium Chloride, you stop the dangers and save the road at the same time.

Many miles of road can be dustproofed in a day with one truck and a supply of Dowflake. The small, white flakes are poured into the hopper of a spreader hitched to the truck. As soon as the flakes are spread on the road, they absorb clean, cool moisture from the air. The moisture binds loose material into a smooth, compact driving surface.

Dowflake is available to highway officials everywhere. Supplies are ample. There is no excuse for any road to be dusty. Write for folder "How to Control Dust." See that local roads are dustless this year.

Work at Nursery

Iron River.—Heavy plows have started the task of preparing a tract of land near Watersmeet for a nursery for the Ottawa federal forest.

With the selection of the plot a little east of Watersmeet on US-2, the hopes of Iron River for the location of the nursery have terminated. Later, it is planned to construct an office building, a dwelling for the nursery caretaker and a warehouse at the site.

In the sandy loam of the tract through which runs Duck creek, a variety of seedlings will be produced for the two-million acre national forest that now covers much of the western end of the upper peninsula. Norway, white and jack pines, and white spruce will be the principal varieties.

The wedding took place on May 3, at Eugene, where Mr. Dahlberg is now located as a member of the faculty of the University of Oregon.

The following account of the ceremony, contained in the Register Guard, of Eugene, has been received from Mrs. Carrie Dahlberg, who is in the west for an extended visit:

"At a quiet ceremony held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. T. Burnett, Friday noon, their daughter, Miss Frances Burnett, was married to W. A. Dahlberg. The service was read by Rev. Clay E. Palmer of the First Congregational church, the ceremony taking place before the fireplace which was banked with white lilacs, blue iris and greenery. For the music, Miss Hollis Hoven played the wedding march.

"The bride was attractive in a watermelon pink chiffon afternoon dress. Her flowers were an old-fashioned nosegay of varied blue flowers and other spring blooms. Mrs. J. A. Carrell, who attended the bride, wore an afternoon dress of light yellow chiffon and with it a corsage of rosebuds and other flowers. Mr. Carrell was best man for Mr. Dahlberg.

"Only members of the two families and a few close friends attended the wedding. An informal buffet luncheon was served after the service, Mrs. Arthur Gray assisting Mrs. Burnett.

FAIL TO FIND VICTIM'S BODY

Airplane, Dynamite Used; Crews Continue to Drag Bay

Search for the body of Robert Anderson, 22, drowned here early Monday morning was resumed and continued all day yesterday without avail.

Clyde Cole, local aviator, with an observer flew about the vicinity of the fatality yesterday noon in an effort to locate the body but it proved impossible to see bottom in areas where the water was much over ten feet in depth.

Yesterday afternoon dynamiting was resorted to in hopes that this method would bring the body to the surface but blasts also proved fruitless.

Throughout the day crews in boats using grappling hooks continued to drag off the point but had been unsuccessful when the search was halted at dark last night.

How long the search will be continued could not be ascertained last night. Many here are of the belief that the body will not be found until it rises to the surface of its own accord.

There are also those who theorize that the strong current action at the point has carried the body some distance from the point at which it went down. Experience has shown in several cases in past years that the current has carried bodies of drowning victims into the upper bay, a number of bodies having been located near Kipling.

CITY BUDGET IS ADOPTED

Appropriations, Levies Unchanged; Several Salaries Raised

A budget calling for appropriation and anticipated expenditure of $51,833 during the fiscal year 1935-36 was adopted by the city commission following public hearing Tuesday evening. Except for a few minor changes, none of which affected the total appropriation or tax levy in any fund, the budget was adopted as it had previously been submitted by City Manager F. R. Buechner.

The total appropriation is $2,270 more than last year. Of the total the amount to be raised by taxation is set at $29,347, or $3,180 more than the tax levy for 1934-35. Using an estimated assessed valuation of $2,050,000 as a base the above levy would result in a tax rate of $14.31 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Several salary matters were considered at the meeting. It was decided to tentatively set the salary to be offered the city manager who will succeed Mr. Buechner at $3,000 per year. The salary of the general office clerk was increased from $1,026 to $1,080 annually and the salary of the city water analyst was set at the same figure. Slight increases in salary were also granted the sexton and one night police officer. The rate of pay for common labor was continued at 40 cents per hour, the same scale as had been in effect the past year.

With the budget approved, the usual ordinance to allow the city to appropriate and levy for the purpose of defraying various expenditures was introduced.

The budget:

Fund	Appropriation	Levy
Interest	$ 3,296	$ 2,996
Sinking	7,200	2,000
Health	280	280
Fire	6,985	4,799
Police	6,000	5,800
Welfare	4,430	4,430
Cemetery	1,855	855
Street and Sewer	6,838	2,238
General	4,751	2,251
Contingent	8,828	2,328
Park	1,370	1,370
Totals	$51,833	$29,347

Former Assessor Again Asks Reason For His Discharge

The matter of Erick M. Johnson's removal as city assessor a year ago was again brought to the fore at the last meeting of the city commission when a communication regarding the matter signed by the deposed assessor and addressed to the mayor and city commission was received and read.

Johnson directed his missive to Mayor Ole Peterson and again demanded a reason be given for his dismissal.

Mayor Peterson treated it with levity and several times during its reading laughter was heard in the packed council chambers. When Manager Buechner completed its reading, the mayor remarked:

"It's the same old story. I don't doubt we'll have more of it. It isn't the first letter I've had from that gentleman."

He then looked over the audience and asked if Mr. Johnson was present. Johnson was not at the meeting.

"The thing to do is to laugh off letters of that sort," the mayor concluded. "If he (Johnson) had a real grievance he should take it up with the proper authorities."

The text of Johnson's communication follows:

"Now that Mayor Peterson apparently has assumed the role of spokesman for the City Commission in our controversy, I will address him directly. This is as it should be since I believe his honor is the source of my trouble in this particular case.

"By way of an introduction of my short address I wish to quote Section No. 36 from the City Charter which reads as follows:

"'All officers and employees shall be elected or appointed with reference to their qualifications and fitness, and for the good of public service, and without reference to their political faith or party affiliations.'

"This section of the City Charter gives us a very comprehensive picture of what a city officer should be and it includes yourself your honor. If I interpret this section correctly, it aims to protect the efficient faithful city officer from the possible acts of a willful city commission who might be actuated to remove such officer from office for personal or political reasons. Now then, Mr. Mayor, you have repeatedly stated that my discharge from office was both a regular and legal act. If the City Charter is a law unto the mayor and commissioners, I question the legality of my ouster, unless your honor can show wherein I failed in qualifications and fitness. You will also have to show in what manner I failed to serve for the good of public service. In comparing public affairs with your cement work does show poor taste, your reason was very much in evidence. In this connection I wish to emphasize that I am not whimpering nor am I begging. I am demanding that you will show a legitimate reason for my discharge. That is my constitutional right, and you as the highest official of our city should be more than willing to point out to the electorate wherein you have contributed to the good of public service in this particular matter."

Ben Gero, Sr., Will Succeed Ashford

Lansing, Mich., May 15. (AP)—Benjamin Gero, Sr., received from Governor Fitzgerald today an appointment as probate judge of Schoolcraft county. He succeeds the late Judge Edmund Ashford.

BEN GERO

Mr. Gero is a lifelong resident of Manistique and is a theatre owner in that city. He is a former mayor of the city and served several terms as city councilman. Last fall he was a candidate for state senator from the 30th district.

THEATRES

Bing Crosby's new picture "Here Is My Heart," coming today to the Rialto Theatre, presents America's favorite radio songster with another opportunity to display his comedy talent as well as his singing ability.

Adapted from a play by Alfred Savoir, "Here Is My Heart" is a bright and frivolous little comedy written about a millionaire crooner's hectic courtship of a haughty princess.

Kitty Carlisle is cast as the princess, opposite Crosby, and Alison Skipworth, Ronald Young and Reginald Owen are prominent in the supporting cast.

Second Feature

Three distinct romances, although woven together in the same plot, are unfolded in the production, "Gentlemen Are Born," which shows as the second feature.

The story, by Robert Lee Johnson, is a thrilling drama with plenty of lighter comedy touches and gay music, including familiar college songs and a new air written by the famous song team of Sammy Fain and Irving Kahal, entitled, "When You Call the Roll, Alma Mater."

The picture treats of the adventures and love affairs of four college graduates who encounter tremendous difficulties that make for intensely dramatic situations in their lives.

No Strike Called At Local Bakery

Union bakers in Gladstone failed to strike yesterday as it was announced they would do by Oscar Izenhauer, bakers union organizer of St. Paul.

Queried yesterday morning, Norman Knutson, partner of the Gladstone Bakery, said the organizer's announcement of the impending strike was news to him and that no demand had been made by the bakers.

Later in the day, however, he reported Izenhauer and several bakers from Escanaba appeared here and demanded union recognition and an increased wage scale. They threatened calling of the strike today if the demands were not met. It was rumored that the plant was to be picketed and delivery trucks would be overturned if an attempt was made to operate the bakery without union labor.

Knutson said that only two of the men in his employ are affiliated with the union, not five as Izenhauer reported. The majority of the men are not in favor of the strike, the local operator said.

Knutson stated that the bakery was paying the scale prescribed by the code which is all, he claimed, that the present prices of baked goods will warrant.

BY FRANK MAC MILLEN
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, May 15 (AP)—Good gains by a few leading equities added a little surface brilliance today to a stock market which was little more than steady in the aggregate.

American Telephone led the utilities with a lift of around 3 points at 119½ as the regular quarterly dividend was ordered by directors. Allied Chemical was a bell-wether for the industrial group.

Rails, oils and metals all found a following at advancing prices, continuing the trend of recent sessions. Preliminary estimates of Wall Street quarters set the latest week's loadings figures moderately above those for the previous 7-day period. The silver stocks responded to an advance of 1¾ cents in the bar metal at New York to 76 5-8 cents, with lifts of more than a point in leaders for a time, though the gains were in some cases erased at the close.

Disappointing News

Some of the corporate news was disappointing without providing any particular surprises. National Biscuit's directors cut the common dividend to 40 cents compared with 50 cents paid in previous quarters. The recent prolonged labor difficulties of the company had led Wall Street to predict the action and the stock ended only a small fraction lower at 25¼. Columbia Gas held even at 6 3-8 as it reported first quarter earnings of 28 cents a share, compared with 32 cents in the same period of 1934.

Railroad equipment shares in some cases found bidders at higher levels. Baldwin preferred was up 2½ points at 14¾, and its common as well as Westinghouse Airbrake was around a point better. Other strength was mostly scattered, with gains of 1 to 2 points or so in such diverse issues as Union Pacific at 96, American Can at 125¼, Columbia Pictures certificates at 54 3-8, United Carbon at 57½ and Underwood-Elliott-Fisher at 64½.

CHICAGO GRAIN
Chicago, May 15—Recovering from early setbacks of prices, the grain markets developed late firmness today, influenced by strength of stocks and by some renewal of inflation talk.

After fluctuating within a range of 1¼ cents, wheat closed firm at the same as yesterday's finish to ½ cent higher, July 80 7-8 to 82, corn unchanged to ¼ up, July 80 7-8 to 81, oats unchanged to 5-8 off, and provisions varying from 2 cents decline to a rise of 20 cents.

Rallies of grain values began after May wheat established today a new bottom price record for the season. Setbacks to this stage were ascribed to relative weakness of wheat quotations at Liverpool and to reports that rains had improved domestic winter wheat prospects, whereas clear weather in the northwest and Canada was facilitating completion of spring crop seeding.

General trade comment was that prospects for the 1935 wheat crop in North America were too favorable to allow price gains to go very far unless a marked broadening of speculative buying power developed.

Corn and oats mainly reflected the course of wheat prices.

Provisions averaged higher.

BY G. A. PHILLIPS
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, May 15 (AP)—The bond market was unable to make up its mind which way to go today and the majority of active issues showed little change from the previous day. U. S. governments continued steady.

Although there were a number of wider swings in rails and utilities, other groups reflected the absence of special developments by remaining within a range of two points.

Utilities were not greatly distressed over the statement of P. H. Gadsden, chairman of the committee on public utility executives, that the Wheeler-Rayburn bill in its present form contains all the "destructive" features of the original draft. American & Foreign Power 5s came in for considerable selling, declining more than 3 points before finding support, but this was an exception to the general trend in this group. Columbia Gas 5s, Metropolitan Edison 4½s and Tennessee Electric Power 5s were among those selling higher.

In U. S. governments, advances ranged from 1-32nd to 4-32nds with treasury issues the most active.

Further declines of 1 to 2 points in bonds of the government of Denmark featured the foreign department.

Alcohol Issues On Curb Market Firm

New York, May 15 (AP)—Firmness in alcohol issues was a feature of the scattered improvement on the curb market today. Some of the oils were a bit reactionary but moderate gains outnumbered losses in the general list.

Among the alcohol issues, Distillers Corp.-Seagrams and Hiram Walker both advanced around 1½ points, while similar gains were established by Crane Co., Bunker Hill & Sullivan and Blumenthal.

A railroad company in England runs what is called a "whitewash special." The train carries no passengers, but is equipped to note every jolt and bump on the track. As a bump is hit, a splash of whitewash is dropped on the ground to mark the spot for repair crews.

confide in. She needed a confidante; it was hard, always keeping things to yourself. And there was no one she could talk to, really. Bertine didn't understand . . . oh, she meant to, but she never really heard what you said; or if she did you were certain she would use it as lunch table topic next day.

No, she wouldn't confide in Bertine.

Besides, there was really nothing to tell about Michael Heatheroe. Katharine had had, on strangest feeling that she might see him among the guests. Obviously that was absurd.

"Nobody else," she said, quite firmly.

Zoe came out with her Princeton boy, and Captain Byrne and his handsome blond fiancee joined them for a cigaret. Captain Altheus Byrne was an army man, home from Fort Sill on vacation. He and the plump, graceful widow from Innicock Hills were to be married the following spring. Gracia McIlvaine was 35, just four years younger than the erect bronzed soldier who was to be her third husband. Gracia had been twice "lawfully widowed." Zoe said gleefully. She did not like Gracia, who insisted on being the center of every group she joined. Gracia had a penetrating voice; she told endless stories of dramatic incidents of which she was the center. There was always an amused male or two to listen. She held them by sheer force of personality.

* * *

Katharine said to herself that she did not mind Gracia, and yet tonight when the gushing Mrs. McIlvaine took possession of Dr. Kaye she was conscious of a distinct sense of annoyance. John seemed to like it. Of course he had met her half a dozen times before, but that was before he had gone abroad to study. His two years in the European capitals had robbed him of much of his former diffidence. He had an easy manner, an air of authority which Gracia was quick to recognize.

". . . now tell me all about this marvelous facial surgery," Katharine heard her coo. John's gentle, deliberate voice answered.

"Dance?" Captain Byrne was at her elbow.

"Love to."

Well, if John Kaye "fell for" Gracia McIlvaine as easily as that Katharine told herself later that night, she was afraid she wouldn't have much respect for him. Gracia had kept him at her side with quite insistence all the remainder of the evening. It was Gracia's well rounded but still charming figure, cased in ice-blue satin, that you saw beside Dr. Kaye's when the orchestra played "The Continental." It was Gracia's well-massaged face that smiled coquettishly up at him during supper.

"Men are all fools," said Katharine to herself, as she undressed. Even Johnny, when she had thought above such things. She fell asleep congratulating herself that she had not confided any of her innermost feelings to him. Moonlight streamed over the floor and lay in barred squares on the broad mahogany four-poster where she slept, uneasily turning in her dreams. A red-haired rider on a roan horse galloped through her dream; and there was a lean, ascetic-looking man in evening clothes somewhere in it, too. Kay argued with him, she was angry, she wept. She woke to an uneasy feeling.

But over the breakfast table Johnny Kaye was his usual pleasant self. He sprang to pull out Katharine's chair for her. His dark blue suit, his striped shirt his scrubbed-looking surgeon's hands were good solid facts in the foggy morning. An unearthly dripping mist brooded over the gardens. The girl felt heavy-eyed and listless.

"Sleep well?"

"Not so very." As she unfolded her napkin he observed that the shadows under her eyes were deeper "The foghorn blew all night long," Katharine contributed, sugaring her grapefruit "You're going into town?"

"On the 8:53, yes." He buttered a roll with precision. "Bertine said to tell you she'd be back before lunch. And your father's off for early golf."

* * *

She lifted heavy eyes. Nothing seemed to matter very much this morning. She had missed her hour for riding. But did she want to ride any more? Wasn't Michael Heatheroe becoming a far too important factor in her life? Wouldn't it, perhaps, be wise to make a clean cut of the matter- Oh, but it was her one great outlet; she needed it. It kept her going . . .

". . . thought perhaps you might come in and lunch with me," John Kaye was saying.

"Oh, I'm so sorry. I'm afraid I didn't hear what you said before," she said in contrition.

"I'm moving in Monday. Found a place," Dr. Kaye said. "It's furnished, so Bertine won't have any fun." His eyes twinkled behind the rimless glasses. "But I thought I'd like to work in earnest There won't be any more week ends for me when I get under way."

"I'd love to come for lunch," Katharine said. "Could I see the apartment, perhaps? That would be fun."

It was arranged that she was to meet him at the Ritz at 1. Later they would go over to the building on the East River where Dr. Kaye was to live, in two rooms high above the turgid stream with its tugs and doughty streamers plying their way to New England. After John had left Katharine called the number of the riding club.

"That's you, Tips? It's Miss Strykhurst. Tell Michael I won't be riding today. I didn't want him to keep Fury for me . . ."

Her heart pounded unaccountably as she waited. The colored boy's voice came to her faintly over the phone:

"That's all right, Mis' Strykhurst. Mist' Michael, he went off with Miss Moon on Fury 10-15 minutes ago."

Katharine put the telephone in its cradle with hands that shook a little. She scarcely recognized the white face that stared back at her from the mirror. Sally Moon—on her own little horse. Sally there at her hour!

Ellen went by, with a drift of dresses over her arm. "I pressed your pink shantung, Miss Katharine."

"Thanks." But she didn't really hear it. She wasn't thinking of the frock she would wear to town to lunch with the vision of two riders drifting along the green lanes together.

Was this jealousy? Was she really in love with Michael Heatheroe?

Yankees Trim Tigers, 4-0; Cubs Split Twin Bill

JOE SULLIVAN POUNDED HARD

Ruffing Gives Champions Just Six Hits at Detroit

Detroit, May 15 (AP)—The Yankees again showed their power against southpaw pitching today by trimming the Tigers and Joe Sullivan, clever young left hander, 4 to 0 in the final game of their western tour. It was their first triumph in the series with Detroit.

Charley Ruffing, who had failed to complete one of his first three starts, came back with a brilliant six-hit shutout performance while Sullivan, who had won three in a row, was rapped freely and Elon Hogsett, another portsider, was touched for the last couple of Yankee hits and the final run.

Ruffing was in real trouble only once. In the sixth inning the Tigers crammed the corners with one out when Manager Mickey Cochrane and Charley Gehringer hit singles and Hank Greenberg drew a pass. But "Rufus the Red" stepped up and fanned Goose Goslin and then made Billy Rogell pop up to end the threat. At no other time could the Tigers put two hits together and Ruffing granted only three walks.

Sullivan Removed

The Yankees' pitcher did well enough at bat to win his own game when he scored the first tally in the third, smacking a hard double to right and coming home on Jesse Hill's base hit and Red Rolfe's fly.

In the fifth inning the Yanks nicked Sullivan for two more runs. Hill walked and was forced on Rolfe's attempted sacrifice. Then Ben Chapman, back in the lineup for the first full game since April 27, and Tony Lazzeri hit a pair of singles and Bill Dickey smashed a two-bagger to bring in the runs.

Sullivan was removed for a pinch batsman in the seventh and the Yanks got their last run off Hogsett in a complicated manner in the ninth. Rolfe singled and Chapman bunted a pop foul to Marvin Owen. Rolfe figred the ball had been trapped and raced all the way to third only to be doubled off first. Then the Yanks got into action when Lou Gehrig walked, Lazzeri singled and the two of them worked a double steal for a run.

The victory advanced the Yanks into sole possession of fourth place.

WHITE SOX WIN FROM A'S, 5-0

Ted Lyons Hurls 3-Hit Game; Chicago Still Heads League

Chicago, May 15. (AP)—Behind a superb three-hit pitching performance by the veteran Ted Lyons, the White Sox closed their surprising home stay today with a neat 5 to 0 shutout victory over Philadelphia. The victory sent last year's cellar occupants on the road in first place.

Lyons retired the first 14 batters to face him, allowed only four men to reach first, and permitted none of them to get any further. Meanwhile, he and his mates batted Merrit Cain out of the box, sewing up the game in the fourth when Zeke Bonura scored on Manager Jimmy Dykes' single after he had singled. In the eighth Bonura stole third and then raced home on a double steal.

The thefts were his first since donning a mapor league uniform.

Brooklyn, May 15 (AP)—The Dodgers clung to second place in the National league standing today by defeating Chicago 3 to 1 in the second game of a double-header after blowing the opening decision 8 to 4 in the ninth inning.

Trailing 3-1 in the first, Brooklyn rallied behind Dazzy Vance's relief hurling to tie the first-game count only to lose out when the Cubs piled up four hits and four runs in the final inning. In the afterpiece Emil Leonard pitched shutout ball up to the ninth, when Van Mungo pulled him out of trouble.

Kiki Cuyler of the Cubs and Gordon (Blimp) Phelps of the Dodgers hit for the circuit in the opener.

George Earnshaw Sold To Dodgers by Chicago

Chicago, May 15 (AP)—In a surprise move to trim their roster to the major league limit of 23 players, the Chicago White Sox today sold George Earnshaw, veteran righthanded pitcher, to Brooklyn of the National League. The deal, a straight cash transaction, was made after every team in the American League waived the former world series star.

GEORGE EARNSHAW

The "Big Moose," one of the big cogs in Connie Mack's triple champions of 1929-'33, was sold to the White Sox by the Philadelphia Athletics in December, 1933, for a reported price of $25,000. He won 14 and lost 11 for the last place White Sox last year, but so far this season he has been beaten twice in three starts.

Earnshaw was surprised when advised to report to Brooklyn.

"Why did they send me away?," he asked. "Of course, I haven't shown much yet, but when warm weather comes I will start winning. I guess the young pitchers were going so good that Dykes (Manager Jimmy Dykes, his old teammate with the Athletics) figured he didn't need Old George. I hope not.

After mentioning that he had never been in the Brooklyn ball park, Earnshaw said facetiously:

"My only regret is that I have but one arm to give to the National League."

SOLD TO BROWNS

St. Louis, May 15. (AP)—Russell Van Atta, six-foot southpaw pitcher, has been bought by the St. Louis Browns from the New York Yankees, it was announced by the St. Louis club tonight.

The amount paid for Van Atta who is to report to the Browns tomorrow night at Philadelphia, was not disclosed.

Runyan Man to Beat in Open, Believes Hagen

Detroit, May 15. (AP)—Now that Walter Hagen has passed "kindergarten" successfully by qualifying for the national open to be played at Oakmont in June, he's willing to hazard an opinion on who will be "the lad to beat" for the open title—"if conditions are right."

Hagen, who shot a 149 to gain a place among five qualifiers from the Detroit district, believes he himself has a "fair" chance to win the crown. He admits he's slowing up a little and has lost his old name the player most likely to putting touch, but he's willing to give everyone trouble.

A Careful Golfer

"I think Paul Runyan is the lad to beat, if conditions are right," said Sir Walter. "He's a good golfer, perhaps a great one. But the thing I like about him is that he's careful. He studies every shot a long time, and he knows just about what he is going to do. Oakmont is that type of course where a fellow will have all kinds of chances to study shots, too. For that reason I like Runyan."

He believes a "lot of fellows are going to find out a few things when they get to Oakmont."

"It's a good test of golf, all right," Walter said, "but the course is unfair for the best pros, decidedly unfair, and I'll tell you why."

The veteran believes the traps at Oakmont are constructed in such a way they penalize all types of shots. As Hagen explained it, "The traps are corrugated, a mass of furrows.

"Many of the traps are just about 100 to 150 yards from the green. Now when a fellow is that close he is entitled to try for the flag, isn't he? Well, he doesn't get that chance at Oakmont. In those furrows the best he can do is to take a niblick and pitch out on the fairway. He can't try for the pin.

"What I'm trying to point out is the fact that Oakmont penalizes a shot maker. Shot makers, you know, don't make their best shots from the fairways. The best shots come from the traps and the rough. But the shot maker is going to have tough going in Oakmont's traps."

BIG SIX STANDINGS

(By The Associated Press)

Arky Vaughan of the Pittsburgh Pirates moved into the leadership of baseball's Big Six yesterday although his average remained .404—good enough for a margin of four percentage points over Gerald Walker of the Tigers. Moore of the Phillies boosted his average nine points to .357 on the strength of two hits out of three trips to the plate. The standings:

ROCK TO ENTER HOUGHTON MEET

Coach Weingartner Will Take Full Team in Effort to Win

Rock, Mich., May 15—Encouraged by the showing made by his thinclads in the tri-county township high school track and field meet held here Saturday, Coach George Weingartner announced today that he would take several of his trackmen to the regional meet at Houghton Saturday. The team will compete in Class C division.

Taking seven out of a possible eleven first places and several seconds and thirds, the Little Giants made a very good showing. Coach Weingartner was especially pleased with the work of the distance men, a department in which Rock has always been noticeably weak. In the mile run, Maki displayed a fast 220 yard spurt at the finish to win very easily and Miljour and W. Maki outdistanced the field in the half mile. The time on both of these runs was slow but very good considering the condition of the track, which a downpour had turned into a quagmire.

Brehmer won the 100 yard dash despite a weak leg and lack of practice. He won his first heat in 11.6 and on a good, fast track he should be able to cut this down below the eleven second mark. He also ran a beautiful anchor lap in the relay to cop the trophy. Lauri just about monopolized the field events, winning the pole vault, shot-put and the high jump. His mark of 41 feet 5 inches in the shot-put should win him a first place in the Houghton meet. In winning the 440 yard dash, Waak made a mark which should pick up several points in the regional. Weingartner is banking on his relay quarter, Chenail, Waak, Brukardt and Brehmer, to win that event at Houghton.

Although he has not named the crew he will take to Houghton, the local mentor has indicated that he probably will take a full squad in an effort to win the class championship.

CARNERA EASY, LOUIS BELIEVES

Detroit Negro Expects He Will Win Early With Knockout

New York, May 15 (AP)—Joe Louis, Detroit's negro heavyweight hope came to New York today with the flat prediction he will stop Primo Carnera within five rounds when they meet at the Yankee stadium late next month.

"I've never seen Carnera in action," said Louis, "but I've carefully studied pictures of some of his fights and they told me enough to convince me I can finish him in five rounds or less. That's my story and I stick to it."

The six foot one, brown bomber, just turned 21 and sporting 18 knockouts in 22 fights, was the toast of Harlem, the world's large negro community, tonight. Friday he begins a week's engagement at a Harlem theater before getting down to serious training for his 15 round engagement with the ponderous Italian.

As a matter of fact, Louis is in pretty fair shape now. Louis plans to visit the training camps of Jimmy McLarnin, world's welterweight champion and his challenger, Barney Ross, at Swan lake and Ferndale, N. Y., tomorrow. His own training camp has not been selected.

Louis will be at the ringside when Max Baer and Jimmy Braddock fight for the heavyweight title June 13.

"I'll be in there with one of those fellows later," he said.

GIANTS SPLIT WITH ST. LOUIS

Dizzy Loses First, 4-1, But Brother Paul Cops Second

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, May 15 (AP)—Bill Terry's Giants managed to sink one half of the Dean boys today, big brother Dizzy, but li'l brother Daffy was the same old problem and so the St. Louis Cardinals split a double header before a great week-day crowd of 41,000. The Giants won the first, but lost the second both by 4 to 1 count.

Dizzy and all the Cards had one turbulent inning in the first game, the seventh, when little Hughie Critz hit his second home run off the lanky right hander, a feat so astonishing and upsetting to the Cards that they made four errors before the side was out. Three runs scored in all, enough to ensure 20-year-old Clydell Castleman his third straight victory for the Giants. Big Dizz allowed only six hits.

Paul Loses Shutout

With brother Paul hurling beautiful five hit ball in the second, the Cards came back to gang Hal Schumacher for four runs in the fourth, when Rip Collins slashed a home run into the upper right field deck with two on. Paul fanned seven, and would have had this shutout but for the fact that Ernie Orsatti dropped an easy fly ball in the right field in the first inning, putting Dick Bartell on second. Bill Terry scored him with a single past third.

Critz, whose home run output never before reached two in one game, got his first one in the fifth inning, when an ordinary single to center got away from young Terry Moore. His second belt in the seventh dropped into the lower right field stands.

COUNTY BOARD HOLDS MEETING

Resolution Offered for Newberry Lumber Co. Tax Relief

Munising, May 15—At the regular meeting of the Alger Board of Supervisors held at the county court house here on Tuesday a resolution was adopted asking the sheriff to purchase his own car this year and that he will receive 8 cents a mile traveling expenses. Previously he was allowed only 5 cents per mile and the county purchased the car.

The supervisors requested the office of the Judge of Probate and the poor commission to submit a report of all the persons who are receiving aid from their respective offices from 1929 to late, as to the amount, person, and how long aid has been extended them. This is for the purpose of seeing whether or not such aid can be terminated in some cases.

A motion was made to have John I. Keeton make an audit of delinquent taxes from 1930 to date of Alger county. This was done for the purpose of obtaining a loan. The following is a resolution adopted pertaining to the loan: The resolution was made by Supervisor Baldwin and supported by Supervisor Hannah and unanimously carried by the board.

At a called meeting of the Alger County Board of Supervisors, Supervisor Baldwin offered the following resolution:

Whereas, Newberry Lumber & Chemical company owes taxes on a number of descriptions in Alger County, Michigan for 1934 and prior years; and

Whereas, said taxes are a first lien on the legal descriptions upon which they were assessed and levied; and

Whereas, Newberry Lumber and Chemical company has applied to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for a loan for the purpose of modernizing and altering its chemical plant at Newberry, Michigan; and

Whereas, it is our understanding that if the proposed loan is granted by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the proceeds will make possible the purchase of the installation of machinery and equipment for the direct manufacture of acetic acid which will practically insure the continuance of the manufacture of iron, chemicals and lumber for many years to come; and

Whereas, Reconstruction Finance Corporation has stated to representatives of Newberry Lumber and Chemical company that a loan cannot be made unless the existing back tax situation is cleared up by such means as will give the Reconstruction Finance Corporation a first lien on the property to be pledged as collateral; and

Whereas, representatives of Newberry Lumber & Chemical company have determined that the sum for back taxes due for years of 1933 and 1934 is approximately the same amount as the sum mentioned by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation as the amount it would advance to assist in clearing up these back taxes. It has also been determined that all back taxes in the State of Michigan for the year of 1932 and years prior to 1932 may be paid under moratorium plan of one tenth each year; and

Whereas, Reconstruction Finance Corporation has given sympathetic hearing to this application and has pointed the way to the possible ultimate approval of such loan application for and sufficient to accomplish the aforesai dresults and to pay taxes delinquent for the years 1933 and 1934 but is unwilling to approve of a loan for an amount sufficient to pay taxes delinquent for the year 1932 and prior years; and

Whereas, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation has refused to approve such loan application unless the tax liens for 1932 and prior years are subrogated to the lien proposed to be created in favor of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation as collateral for such loan; and

Whereas, representatives of the Newberry Lumber & Chemical company have appeared before us and represented that it will be possible to pay taxes for the year of 1932 and prior years in ten equal, annual installments beginning in September, 1935; and

Whereas, after mature and deliberate considerations it has been decided that it would be for the best interest of Alger County Board of Supervisors to permit the subrogation as aforesaid.

Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the Chairman and Clerk of the Alger County Board of Supervisors be and they are hereby authorized and empowered to sign, execute and deliver for and on behalf of Alger County Board of Supervisors any and all instruments deemed necessary and proper by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for the sole and only purpose to be given to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, as a collateral security, for the aforesaid loan upon the condition, however, that such instruments shall not become effective until all taxes for the years of 1933 and 1934 shall have been paid in full, it being understood that nothing herein contained shall prohibit or prevent the Newberry Lumber & Chemical company from taking advantage of adopting any and all statutes now in effect, or hereafter to be enacted providing for a tax moratorium, tax cancellation or other tax relief.

SAFETY!

WE MEAN IT! No other tire can stop your car as quick as a "G-3" All-Weather. That's not our say-so. 8,400 stopping tests settle the question. The big, husky "G-3" tread grips and holds better than any other.

And in addition—its safety lasts longer because it gives 43% longer non-skid mileage.

Isn't that something worth having on your car—at no extra cost? Of course it is—come in and see us about it soon.

TO THE PUBLIC:

We wish to advise that the local bakery workers have organized a Bakers Union and have imported an organizer from St. Paul. The Union has served us notice that if we do not sign an agreement with them, they are stopping all work in local bakeries, effective Wednesday, May 15th.

Although we are now, and have in the past, paid the scale of wages they are asking ($32.00 for Foremen and no employee under $21.00) they have walked out.

We cannot sign any agreement, unless all bakeries in the area in which we sell our products (within a radius of 60 miles) would also sign agreements, otherwise outside bakeries could come right into our town and undersell us because of cheaper labor conditions. The closest City that has a bakers union is Sheboygan, Wis., a town many times the size of Escanaba. Green Bay and other large cities in the Fox River Valley have no unions.

As we do not know if any Strong-Arm men have been imported, We Are Closing Our Baking Plant Indefinitely, to avoid possible violence or bloodshed.

We certainly wish to thank the public for the fine patronage they have given NORTHLAND BREADS and will you please remember us later on (we hope it won't be long). Thank you.

YOURS VERY TRULY,
Hoyler & Baur
FRED R. HOYLER.

NOTICE TO COOKING SCHOOL ATTENDANCE:

Due to the above described conditions Northland Bread can not participate in the Cooking School as previously announced. H. & B.
